Council Favors Law To Curb Gangsters

City councilmen and Mayor John Dennis are believed heartily in favor of adopting the proposed gangster ordinance which, if passed, will compel every ex-convicted within the last seven years, coming here to register with the Sheriff's office.

The local city officials attended a public hearing Tuesday before the Board of Supervisors on the proposed county-wide ordinance. If Los Angeles and the larger cities pass such a law, Torrance will follow suit to counteract the invasion of eastern gangsters, Mayor Dennis said yesterday.
